A New Chapter in Women's Health Innovation

Dear Valued Partner,

Although Liger Medical acquired MobileODT three years ago, we are excited to announce the full merger of both entities into one unified company. This milestone combines our clinical strengths, technical expertise, and shared mission to expand access to life-saving care through affordable and intelligent technology.

As part of this transition, the Mobile ODT name and brand will be sunset over the coming months. Moving forward, all products, services, and support will carry the Liger Medical name, reflecting our unified commitment to innovation, quality, and global impact.

All products, services, and support will continue — only stronger, with the backing of our combined teams and resources. Same Products, Enhanced Support: All existing products you know, and trust will continue under the Liger Medical brand, with uninterrupted access and service. With the combine strength of our teams you can expect even more robust support and resources.

What you can expect:

- Updated Distribution Agreements: As part of this transition, all existing agreements with MobileODT will be reissued under Liger Medical. Per company policy, we must have a signed agreement in place for distribution to continue. Our team will reach out to initiate this update promptly.
- Changes to Invoices: During this transition, invoices may occasionally reflect both Liger Medical and MobileODT. Please note that this is legitimate and expected. Payment details, including bank account information, may remain in the name of MobileODT for a limited period. If you have any questions or concerns, do not hesitate to contact us.

We are committed not only to a seamless transition but to our broader mission: advancing women's health with a special focus on the global elimination of cervical cancer.

Warm regards,

Dean Wallace
